What is it about?

Have a go, do it yourself, learn something new

The Innwerk is an open workshop that gives everyone access to tools and a creative space. We want everyone to have the chance to try their hand at crafts - regardless of whether they already have experience in repairing, building or sewing. Not only can you access tools for free, but you can also become part of a creative craft community. Innwerk is all about sharing ideas, creativity and broadening your crafting horizons.

What do I have to do?

Creative, hands-on, collaborative - your projects at the Innwerk

We are looking for enthusiastic people who would like to liven up and enrich the workshop with their own ideas. We would like to organise more workshops and events at the Innwerk - be it a clothes swap party, a bicycle workshop or other creative/crafty formats. We need your support to develop new ideas and organise events.

You can also get involved in public relations work: from redesigning our website and creating photo and video material to designing posters and flyers.
