What is the project about?

Stories about people who make Lower Bavaria better.

Emerenz is an online magazine that was founded in 2023 on a voluntary basis. A group of former journalists want to put positive, constructive journalism into practice at Emerenz. To this end, the Emerenz team tells stories about people in Lower Bavaria who make life here better. For example, people who volunteer or have developed a creative solution to a social problem.

What do I have to do?

Are you interested in how a podcast is produced or are you creative on social media?

Emerenz is looking for people with good communication skills. Anyone who would like to gain journalistic experience (in the preparation and production of the podcasts) should join Emerenz. Be part of Emerenz if you like to creatively enrich Emerenz's social media presence or already have experience in editing audio files. Good knowledge of German is required.
